Action Information
Description: Craig and Joyel visited the Hess oil spill on the FBIR Wednesday, July 8, 2015. They met and toured the spill with both the Tribe and Hess. The broken pipeline is part of a gas gathering system from a production well pad. It is not dry natural gas which is why there is visible oil and staining. There is no estimate of how much was released at this point. We are doubtful that they will ever really know because the lines are not metered. Hess has secured the release and is securing the site with perimeter fencing. We verbally discussed options for removal of the oil from the wetland. Hess will prepare a work plan for the Tribe to approve. Scott Baker is the Incident Commander for the Three Affiliated Tribes. Hess has mobilized crews to begin recovery operations tomorrow. Craig and Joyel will be on the FBIR through the end of the week. They will continue to monitor the clean up and assist the Tribe, as needed.
